Communion Reflection... The most important thing about each of us is our capacity for goodness. We can be a source of light. We have hands that can care, eyes that can see, ears that can hear, tongues that can speak, feet that can walk, and above all hearts that can love. Unfortunately, through laziness, selfishness, and cowardice, our light can be dimmed, so that we become shadows of the people we could be. Lord, help us to believe in our own goodness, and to let the light of that goodness shine. On seeing this light others find their way, and you will be glorified.

I am your Lord, your Supply. You must rely on me. Trust to the last uttermost limit.

Trust and be not afraid. You must depend on Divine Power only. I have not forgotten you. Your help is coming. You shall know and realize My Power. Endurance is faith tried almost to breaking point. You must wait, and trust, and hope, and joy in Me. You must not depend on the man but on Me—on Me, your strength, your Help, your Supply. This is the great test. Am I your supply or not? Every great work for Me has had to have this great test-time. Possess your souls in patience and rejoice. You must wait until I show the way. Heaven itself cannot contain more joy than that soul knows, when, after the waiting-test, I crown it victor, but no disciple of Mine can be victor, who does not wait until I give the order to start. You cannot be anxious if you know that I am your supply.

Marriage Sunday - A Prayer for Married Couples

Father of life and love,

You created us in your image – woman and man.
We rejoice and thank you for the gift of each other.

Sustain us in our love
and lead us to a deeper understanding of your love.

Jesus, we come before you,
seeking your guidance and direction
in our relationship.

In marriage you call and challenge us
to a permanent, exclusive and sacred friendship.

Be our strength and support, therefore,
as we continue this journey together.

Holy Spirit, help us to strive towards a lasting,
honest commitment united in love.

Give us your strength to carry each other
in times of darkness,
your joy in times of happiness,
and your gift of awe in the uniqueness
and sacredness of each other.

May our love be a reflection and a sign of your love in the world.

Provide A Meal...

It takes a community to make positive changes in the lives of people, and you are a large part of that change. Thanks to you, the Good Shepherd Ministries is able to provide a special meal for those struggling with hunger in our community today and tomorrow. Chili's may be dropped off in the freezer, located in the porch of the house at St. John's Church. Pans and recipes are available.

Most of us are more than aware of how imperfect and weak we are. How do we feel when we hear Jesus address us as the salt of the earth and the light of the world? Is this just another example of how wide a difference there is between the Gospel ideal and how you and I really live our lives? Or is it possible to be weak and, at the same time, be the light of the world? When we try to put these two different ideas together – being imperfect, yet being salt and light – we can't think the way the world thinks. If we do, then we will find ourselves at a dead end. If, in prayer, you pretended that you were perfect, your prayer wouldn't be genuine. When we come before the Lord, we come as we are – with all of our imperfections, our sinfulness and sadness, our doubts and desires. We come as pilgrims – as people still engaged in the struggle of life. To place ourselves before the Lord as perfect examples of Christianity would be nothing less than utter foolishness. Just as those first followers of Jesus had many weaknesses to deal with, so do we. And so it is in both our strength and our weakness that we are called to be salt and light.
